OUR STATE TICKET.
GOVERNOR, W. S. TAYLOR, Of Butler County.
LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR, JOHN MARSHALL, Of Jefferson County.
SECRETARY OF STATE, CALEB POWERS, Of Knox County.
ATTORNEY GENERAL, CLIFTON J. PRATT, Of Hopkins County.
JUDGES, JOHN S. SWEENEY, Of Bourbon County.
WALTER R. DAY, Of Breathitt County.
COMMISSIONER OF AGRICULTURE, J. W. THROCKMORTON, Of Fayette County.
SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION, JOHN BERKE, Of Campbell County.
For Representative, SAM HOUSTON, Of McCracken County.

MONDAY, OCT. 23, 1899.
Two weeks from tonight the state canvass closes.
Chicago is about to annex Austin, a suburb with 12,000 inhabitants. The Windy City clearly aims to crowd New York when the next census is taken.
The Republicans of Fayette county and Lexington placed a ticket in the field Saturday for legislative and city offices. They left part of the offices uncontested with the Democrats, for party reasons.
Michigan politics this year centers in the mayoralty election in Detroit. Ordinarily this fact would mean that the campaign would have little general interest for the people of the Middle West. Such is not the case, however, under present conditions, for their is a party fight on, with the Democrats in charge if not majority.

The papers of this immediate section have treated the Paducah Carnival with much consideration. Their good work, so largely an act of friendship, has been observed and will no doubt be fully appreciated and remembered by the people of the Paducah pride. The Sun, in behalf of its city, in advance of the carnival extends its thanks to the fraternity.

The Goebelties are not very conspicuous at straw, but they are conspicuous with straw men. Heller and Scheller the gang is rushing speakers of all classes and kinds, hoping to delude the people by over persuasion. They have not sense enough to know the thinking people have long since recognized their trickery and made up their minds how to vote.

Mr. Bryan, having toured Kentucky and Ohio for the so-called Democratic tickets, has gone to Nebraska to help save the fusion ticket in that state. If Mr. Bryan did no more good in Ohio than he did in Kentucky it would have been better for himself at least if he had remained in Nebraska. He certainly strengthened the fusionists and disgusted many a Goebeltie by his visit to this section.

England seems to have the same kind of traducers America gives homes to. This country is called a bad place by people who find it a good place to abide because of the Philippine war and England is abused by her people because of the Transvaal war. It is the case in England as in this country that the government traducers are all to be found at home, well protected, and never at the front fighting for their flag.

With the vast amount of raw materials that fields, forests and mines produce, there is no reason why this should not soon become the great manufacturing nation of the world. At the present rate of increase in manufacturing it can only be a few years before all our food products will be required at home. The English market will then no longer effect the price of our wheat or corn. We shall then be able to export our iron, steel and other materials that nature has been piling up here for centuries, in the shape of highly finished products, and all the profit on it will be ours. We shall then have permanent prosperity.

M'CHESNEY'S DEMAGOGY.
Superintendent M'Chesney is running around over this state with two United States histories, on the back of one is stamped, "Indiana State Contract, Price 65 cents," and with this exception the books are exactly alike. He says the one is sold in Indiana for 65 cents and the other in this state for $1.00. The fact is they are both sold in Indiana, and both should be stamped alike. The stamp was purposely left off of the one that he might make some show of honesty. Neither of the books he carries is sold in this state. The book sold in Kentucky is a larger book in every way, having some sixty pages more, and larger ones at that, is printed on heavier paper, the book being a half heavier than the Indiana book; it is up to date, while the Indiana book has nothing whatever in it about the late Spanish war. So too, are the maps better than the ones in the Indiana book. In short the Kentucky book is a revised, improved and enlarged one, while the Indiana book is the old one and would not be used in this or any other state where it is possible to get the new one.

Now is there so much difference in the prices as Mr. M'Chesney would make believe. On the face it appears that there is 35 cents difference, but by the time the tax payers in Indiana pay for handling the books, there is but about 15 cents difference. In short Indiana saves 15 cents by using an old and out of date and inferior book.

If Mr. M'Chesney does not know better than what he is saying he should inform himself, and there is no excuse for his not knowing, and if he does know, what kind of a man is he for the head of the school system of this great state? There was a time when he had the respect of all the school men and teachers of this state, but from his course the past three or four months he does not deserve the confidence of the average ward politician let alone a good citizen.

The Sun has copies of the histories referred to above—the two being exhibited by M'Chesney and the history used in the state. If there is a doubt of the statements above which will call at this office copies of the three books will be exhibited to him.

NEWS NOTES.
The New Century Coal company has been incorporated at Charleston, W. Va., with capital of $1,000,000. Governor Chandler will recommend to the Georgia legislature such an amendment to the constitution of the state as "will restrict the ballot to the virtue and intelligence of the state."

The latest news from Samia indicates that the three powers who have undertaken the management of Samia affairs will have to interfere again to prevent serious trouble.
James H. Smith, a painter, committed suicide at Ashland, Ky., by swallowing carbolic acid. He left a brief farewell note to his wife signed "Your devil, James H. Smith."

President McKinley intends to send to the senate soon after congress convenes the nominations of Rear Admiral Sampson and Schley and other officers recommended last year for advancement, as a reward for gallant conduct in action. This is likely to renew the old fight between the friends of Sampson and Schley, and Sampson is to be advanced six numbers and Schley four.

W. W. McKee, a prominent farmer, and Mrs. Allie Wilson, a widow, were found dead by the roadside about seven miles from Lawrenceburg, Ky. Circumstances indicated that McKee had killed the woman and then committed suicide. The couple had been indicted on an immorality charge at the last term of the Anderson circuit court.

The Republican campaign managers talk of sending Governor Bradley, Nominee Taylor and other speakers through the state on a special train. A special train bearing a number of speakers is booked to start October 28 for a trip through Central and Eastern Kentucky, and the campaign committee hopes the governor will join the party later.

Another negro, accused of complicity in the murder of the Gambrell family in Leake county, Miss., has paid the death penalty. He was hanged and riddled with bullets by a mob. Two other negroes are in custody in an adjoining county, and a posse is after two white men said to be implicated in the murder.

Governor Roosevelt, of New York, and Senator J. B. Foraker spoke at Cincinnati Saturday night in the interest of the Ohio Republican ticket. Senator Foraker defended the national administration and Governor Roosevelt defended his own record against some charges made by Democratic Nominee McLean.

Mr. Bryan closed his three days' campaign in Ohio Saturday, having delivered more than fifty speeches during the week. He left Sandusky last night for Chicago en route to Nebraska, where he will make a two weeks' campaign similar to those in Kentucky and Ohio.

It is reported in New York that Vice President Hobart is dying at his home in Patterson, N. J. He is said to be suffering from heart trouble, and his condition is such that his family is said to have given up all hope of his recovery.

CROSS WARRANTS.

Two Darkies Charged With False Swearing.
Charles White, colored, was this morning fined $20 and costs on a charge of immorality in the police court. Mr. Ben Wolfe went his bond, but before he could leave the court room he was called back and told that there was a warrant against him for swearing falsely in the police court several days ago.

He swore oneway and Jeff Walker, colored, another. After a warrant against him for using insulting language towards Walker was dismissed, he went to Judge Sanders for a warrant against Walker for false swearing, but as there was no evidence to justify it, Judge Sanders declined to issue it.

White then went before Justice Winchester and swore out the warrant, and Walker was arrested and released on his own recognizance. The case is set for tomorrow. A warrant was then issued in Judge Sanders' court against White by Walker, and it is evident that one of them will have to go to the penitentiary for false swearing. The question is which one of them. The case against White was continued a week.

SENSATION IN FULTON.
Woman Has a Receipt Appointed for Her Husband's Business.

FULTON, Ky., Oct. 23.—A sensation was created here Saturday when officers served notice on Fisher & Reed that a receiver had been appointed to take charge of their drug store and bottling works by the court on petition of Mrs. T. Grant Fisher. Mrs. Fisher left her husband about three months ago and went to live with her relatives in Paducah. Mrs. Fisher has sued for a divorce and also for alimony. J. W. Chambers has been appointed receiver. All parties are prominent here.

CHARGED WITH ROBBERY.
Ed Nance, Colored, Charged With Stealing a Watch.
Ed Nance, colored, was arrested last night on a charge of robbery. Burnett Beauregard, colored, is the plaintiff, and he alleges that Nance robbed him by force of a watch and 47 cents in money. Nance employed Attorney Wheeler Campbell to defend him, and the case was set forward a week.

Joseph Strader, aged three years, died yesterday at Clark and Second. Burial this afternoon at 2 o'clock at Oak Grove.

Observations
....at Random.

It is thought that the city will take steps to have Yeiser park cleaned before the carnival. It is now covered with leaves, and the people can see plenty of leaves in the country, without coming to town to see them. It is difficult to preserve cleanliness in a place like Yeiser park at this time of the year, but the leaves should be raked away the day before the carnival opens, and while a few may fall the next day or two, there will not be as many as there are now.

People who attempt to board a street car on the wrong side of the street should not blame the motorman for not stopping. A motorman will break anything but the rules, and its against the rules to stop on the side of the street nearest the car. A great deal of complaint is made in regard to the failure of motormen to stop where people want them to stop. They have to please the company, not the people.

It is not known how soon the new street car line will be built out to the new depot, but it is thought that it will be before the first of the year. The street improvements will be finished inside of a month, and these improvements are all that the street car men are waiting on. There is a great deal of speculation as to whether cars will be run out to the night train stop. It will make no difference, however, as hackmen will be compelled to haul people to and from the depot for 25 cents before midnight, and 50 cents after that, as the depot will be inside the city limits.

Neah Franklin, the young man who stayed in jail three years before he finally proved himself innocent of the murder of Daisy Sullivan, is quite plucky. He has remained in the locality where he has been persecuted and hounded for three years, despite numerous threats that have been made against him. He intends to keep on saying from what he says, and it is doubtful whether any of his cowardly accusers will attempt him any harm.

Paducah is to have the convention of the Ohio Valley Association in 1901. This is one of the most important maritime associations in the country, and can be of much benefit to Paducah and this section of the country. Some of the most prominent river men from Paducah to New Orleans are members of it, and that Paducah is to be honored by a visit from these distinguished men is something that she should be proud of, notwithstanding the fact that it is two years away.

Major J. H. Ashcraft's many friends are appreciative of the grim humor of this dignified gentleman and one of the latest stories of him is told about his recent trip to Louisville.
A crowd from Paducah was sitting in the lobby of the Willard Hotel one evening after supper when a stranger entered with an umbrella and opened a very diminutive dog—one of the smallest, in fact, that the crowd had ever seen.

"My friends," remarked the major as he put on his glasses and took a better look at the tiny canine, "is that your dog?"
"Yes sir," proudly replied the gentleman, "he belongs to me, sir."
"Well," dryly rejoined the major, "it looks to me like you are pretty near out of a dog."

BRYAN'S VISIT.
It Was Undertaken in Footloose and Ended in Disaster.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 13.—Under taken in footloose, the tour of Mr. Bryan has ended in disaster. He was received in Covington last evening with the respect due to the man who was deemed worthy to carry the banner of Democracy in 1896, the year in which William Goebel was elected as the state's gold standard delegation to the Lexington convention, with the aid and assistance of John Griffin Carlisle, secretary of the treasury under Grover Cleveland and the exponent and leader of the doctrines of the nonmonetarists, with gold as the metal and silver denominated. Mr. Bryan has come and Mr. Bryan has gone. There he was with him of his own will he has assumed sponsorship for all the infancy of the Music Hall convention, and has arrayed himself with William Goebel and the Goebel election bill, the Court-Journal-Chin school book bill fraud, and for the domination of Democratic conventions by the police and fire departments of Louisville. He has lost friends by the score in Kentucky, and he has not made one vote for the ticket of the Music Hall convention. Mark it! The Democrats of Kentucky select the delegates to the Presidential conventions, and are equally competent to select their nominees for governor. William Goebel, by the aid of the police and firemen of Louisville, has denied to the Democrats of Louisville the right to select their nominee for governor, and in the event of his success will deny their right to express their preference for president. William Goebel will not be the next governor of Kentucky, but the Democrats of Kentucky will not forget that their leader, William Jennings Bryan, has assumed to tell them that they are not competent to select their nominee for governor, but that police and firemen, force and fraud are the methods of selection altogether delightful to him; and the Democrats of Kentucky count resent his interference in a canvass in which their dearest rights are involved, and of the issues of which Mr. Bryan has declared himself ignorant.

Ignorance of the law excuses no man, and ignorance of the issues of the pending Kentucky campaign cannot excuse Mr. Bryan. The issue in Kentucky is not the coming presidential contest; it is not the free coinage of silver, nor is the gold standard dependent on its outcome. The issue is between force and fraud, dishonest elections and counts to suit the occasion, and free elections and honest counts, and no Kentucky Democrat mistakes it.

MISS SACHS ILL.
Miss Alice Sachs, music teacher in the public schools, was forced to return to her home in Louisville this morning on account of illness. It is thought that she has typhoid fever. Her many friends here will wish her a speedy recovery and return to her work here. She was accompanied home by Mrs. Wilkerson.

Fulton seems to be suffering from an epidemic of petty crime. Nearly every night a burglary is reported or some one is robbed. Friday night three different dwelling houses were broken into.

SPOKE AT PEPPER'S MILL.
Mr. James Tandy Ellis, of Carrollton, spoke for Brown Democracy at Pepper's Mill Saturday night to a crowd of 75 attentive voters. His remarks were greatly appreciated by his hearers.

The people of the Southern end of the city are to petition the carnival committee to come at least to Broad street and from there turn into Sixth. They say Tennessee is too far down in the city for the parade to turn back and that when the committee thinks the matter over they will so decide. There are many citizens and industries in the part of the city named and the committee can do them much good by extending their route as suggested.

There were throngs of pedestrians on the streets yesterday. The rainy weather drew them out doors.

The readers of this paper will be pained to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surface of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Eloping Couple Arrested Here This Morning.

Ran Away From Princeton Last Night—Going to Metropolis to Marry.

Chief Hoyer last night received a telegram from the chief of Police of Princeton, Ky., asking him to keep a lookout for a man about 60 years old and a girl about twelve, who ran away from that place and were thought to be enroute to the city on a freight train. Nothing of the couple was discovered last night, but this morning Marshal Collins and Officer Jones found the couple on the R. Richardson, ready to start for Metropolis, and arrested them.

The man gave the name of Edward Hyde, occupation farmer, and age 52 to a reporter, and the girl, Salie R. Brown, who claims she will be 16 in February.

"Yes, we were enroute to Metropolis to be married," he frankly admitted, "when they took us off the boat."

"Did the young lady's parents object?" he was asked.

"I didn't ask 'em," was his reply. He claimed he had talked to the young lady's mother about marrying the girl, but evidently they eloped and the girl's mother objected and had them arrested.

The Princeton officers were notified and wired back that they would arrive by the first train.

The marshal arrived this afternoon from Princeton and the couple were taken back with him.

It is known the Morton woman was slashed across the thigh, the wound being about six inches long and two inches deep. It is a flesh wound and not dangerous.

Evans disappeared and it is reported was also cut. He is charged with malicious cutting, but if he goes away and never comes back, the police will consider the city fortunate in getting rid of such a nuisance.

An investigation is to be held by the government inspectors to ascertain who is to blame for the collision between the Cherokee and the Columbia. It is claimed that the boats were racing, and that they were confined to a narrow channel on account of the low water, and not at a safe distance.

Once again. The damage resulting from the collision was slight, but it is said that the Columbia was in imminent danger of being demolished and sunk. The repairs to the Columbia were being made yesterday by the boat's carpenters.

The Louisville Commercial of last Saturday says: "At 9 o'clock this morning the automatic lock in the old canal at Shippingport, which is better known as the 'bear trap,' will be opened up in full, and the stagnated water now in the canal and along the city front will shoot through it with the velocity of a mile a minute train of cars. This is an experiment, and the government engineers request owners of floating property along shore to watch their craft because of the fact that there is no telling what the result of the opening of the bear trap will be. This event will be one of the most interesting in the city to-day, and the best way to see to it is to go to the Twenty-sixth street bridge early and secure position along the route of the old canal, which is about 800 yards long. It is believed the opening of the bear trap will create a current all along the city front and clean out the entire harbor, which needs it badly."

They are Russians, and could not understand of speak English. Rev. R. R. Xan Gueiniski, a priestly looking gentleman, of St. Louis, accompanied them as interpreter, and it was through him that they were married.

They will return to St. Louis tonight and make their future home there. The bride is remarkably pretty, and the groom quite handsome. The most striking one of the trio, however, was the reverend gentleman who acted as interpreter.
